Gentlemen:

I don't know exactly who to address; but I write to ask if two ladies who are here on a visit from N. Carolina can possibly be admitted to the Art Gallery some day this week — before Friday. I saw a notice in paper that the Gallery was closed for a time. The ladies came here to see the Gallery more than anything else. Please address me as above.

June 25th 1883.

To the Judges of Concord Gallery,

My express today, I send two of my portraits which you have kindly consented to examine and criticize.

These two, with one other, a large one of a gentleman, are all I have painted.

In the eyes of the little girl, I have gotten that moist appearance, more than in the one of the boy, but I did not know how to remedy the latter as I hardly know how I got it in the former.

The likeness of both is pronounced perfect.

I expect to devote much time at this work and for this reason I made the request I did, as I know of no one else to ask. The only artist with whom I am acquainted is now in Europe.

Please give me any criticism and encouragement you think best, and any suggestions will be gratefully received.

The pictures may be returned to me, at my expense, when you are through with them.

Respectfully,

Miss Anna Kern.

Sirs
I take the liberty of addressing you in reference to a fine portrait I have, of the Natural-Bridge of Virginia, painted from sketches & studies (of that remarkable, natural sublime awe inspiring imposing work of of the great architect) made during my sketching tour two times its vicinity, during the Summer of 1881.

In making this painting I was inspired with the hope of placing it in the possession of the Virginia Historical Society at Richmond. But through a correspondence with Mr Brooks the Secretary I learned that the Society at present were not in a condition financially to purchase it. But was referred to several practical men, members of the Society who possibly might be interested in the matter, should they be made aware that it would be an acceptable acquisition to the Society.

With Mr Brooks letter I introduced myself to those gentlemen, who at once entered into the scheme with a zeal which looked to me like an earnest of its success.

I had the printing exhibited at the annual bazaar of the "Sons & Daughters of Virginia" also for several days at "Thurber's gallery" where it was timed bringing this matter before you please give this matter your generous consideration and let me hear from you at your convenience to receive the unqualified praise of both press & people during its exhibit.

Yet up to date aside from admiration nothing of a substantial nature has been done to secure its purchase for the object intended and now not having succeeded in placing it in the possession of the Virginia Historical Society thru the "substantial" influence of the native Virginians residents of our city, my next ambition is to have accepted at the Convention fully at Washington, either as its property or in compliment to its merit as a faithful transcript of one of nature's wonderful works.

Mr Lawrence Mendenhall Chairman Committee on fine Arts of the Cincinnati Industrial Exposition of this fall, has seen the painting and has expressed himself in the most flattering terms, anxious that it be represented on either day in this fall in the forthcoming Exposition. I have promised it to him in case I did not otherwise dispose of it before that time.

Dear Sir

Your of 1st 21 in answer to mine is received. I feel to thank you for information therein contained.

What I must be hoping the printing might be accepted was this.

I am informed that Mr. Everett is a member of the "Virginia Historical Society" and if the printing was adjudged worthy to be exhibited in the "Everett Gallery of Art," Mr C might be induced to purchase & present it to the Society, were he to be made acquainted with its history & the negotiations entered into with the members of that society here, for its purchase, for the purpose of presentation. And again should he not purchase it, I should feel that its acceptance & exhibition would be to me highly complimentary

I do not know that anything further can be done in this matter, unless, I choose to send the painting on subject to the rules (all of which I could accept) unless in case you should call Mr. Curran's attention to this matter and he might desire to see the painting notwithstanding one painting of the Bridge had already been exhibited, but not purchased;

My thanks are due Mr. Mac Leod for a copy of the rules governing the accepting & exhibiting of paintings in the C.G.A. besides other information.

My painting will go to Cincinnati O and be exhibited in the Fine Art Dept. of the Cincinnati Industrial Exposition of this fall.

If any thing should develop in this matter in the near future I should be pleased to hear from you again. Dear Sir

Receiving your favor of the 24th - acknowledge out by after my first to you, having by accident dis-the first ltr. The date of Testimonial should be September 15th 1881. I remember now that Mr Corcoran was the guest of Col H.C. Parsons.

(president of the co) at the time I was there, But before I had ~~accomplished~~ <sup>accomplished</sup> anything with my studies of the Bridge to attract attention.

I felt it was not expected that I would succeed, because, as they all said, all others had failed. Consequently I went to work very carefully & made myself pretty thoroughly acquainted with the Bridge from every point of view before I began. And after about two weeks study my work was pronounced unqualifiedly a success. Mr. W. M. R. French Secy. of the "Academy of Fine Arts" under whose auspices I had gone there to study, wrote me hoping I would succeed, for if I did I would be the first one that ever ~~did~~ had attained that honor.

Hon. John G. Rogers,
President of the Virginia Society, Chicago.

My dear Sir,

I take the liberty of submitting to you the suggestion whether or not the Virginia Society could not, by a subscription to be raised for, the purpose, undertake to purchase Mr. Paul Brown's painting of the Natural Bridge, with the view to present it either to the State of Virginia, or the Historical Society of Virginia, or the University of Virginia, as may be eventually determined by the Society.

The subject chosen, the superior execution of the painting, and its remarkable faithfulness as a delineation of one of the most interesting natural curiosities within the limits of the commonwealth, would, in my opinion, render it an acceptable present to either the State, the University, or the Historical Society; while such a testimonial of honor and affection, from a Society, composed of the Sons and Daughters of Virginia or Their descendants, whose lot in life keeps them at so great a distance from Their ancestral home, would, it seems to me, be peculiarly appropriate.

If the Executive Committee should feel at liberty to act in the premises, I think it highly probable that they could, without much effort on their part, accomplish the object proposed.

I am, with great respect,

Very truly yours,

We the undersigned agree to do the following work at the Corcoran Gallery of Art, for the sum of Six hundred and sixty five dollars - viz.

To furnish and place securely in position, new iron cresting, of the same pattern and dimensions as that at present upon the towers of the building, to extend along the edge of the roof from the S. E. tower to the central tower, from the central tower to the S. W. tower, from the S. W. tower to the N. W. tower, from the N. W. tower to the N. E. corner of the roof, and from this latter point to the S. E. tower.

The present iron cresting and iron work of the roof and towers to receive one good coat of paint, the new iron work to receive two good coats of paint.

The tops of the spears, and top stars or rosettes of all the cresting, old and new, and the tips of the corner posts to be gilded with pure gold leaf.

All to be done in a workmanlike manner, and to be accepted by the Committee on the Building before a final settlement is made.
